

It is time that the government did something good for a change. I am a paid Subscriber for XM Radio and do not appreciate any governmental agency pursuing ways to change my freedom to listen to what the hell I want to. XM displays a lawful environment for people that are sick and tired of the wasted radio waves of talk talk and then more talk if you want to do some good then pass laws about how many commercials or wasted yapping the FM channels practice on a 24 hr a day basis.. And for Gods sake this country has too many problems to be worrying about BS like this.
